

Publication of the Dunisky Souterrain (English version) : Corrigendum

I published my survey and interpretation of the Dunisky souterrain in the Journal of the Cork Historical and Archaeological Society in 2003 (108, pp.15-30). Even though, the article was submitted for publication with the correct caption information attached to each image the captions were not reproduced as such in the published version of the article.

I do not know the editorial background to how this happened. The captions information for Illustrations (images) 3 and 4 were somehow reversed and should therefore be marked as such by the reader of the article i.e. that for Illustration 4 describes the image in Illustration 3, while the caption for Illustration 3 describes the image in Illustration 4.

The article has been available online now for sometime now via the institutional repository website CORA.UCC.IE.

Subsequently, I also publishing a report on this souterrain (in French translated there to by R. Delavigny) in the Bulletin of the Société Française d'Etude des Souterrains (2005, September, p.81 - see www.subterranea.fr).
